You'd probably have to eat out every night for six months before you'd make it to every excellent restaurant in Vancouver.

With that in mind, here is a completely subjective list of some of the city's finest and most creative restaurants. Whether you're looking for a fine vegetarian feast, carbs and coffee or a hotter-than-hot nightspot, Vancouver's dining scene offers something for everyone. Just don't forget to call to reserve a table.

La Pentola della Quercia

Style: Rustic Northern Italian

Located within the beautiful Opus Hotel, this restaurant offers family-style dining (platters, instead of individual portions) and a menu that's tweaked daily, depending on what's in season. Make sure you order the house-made pasta. Breakfast options include Kaiserschmarrn, a Northern Italian pancake made with raisins, pine nuts and cream.
